A DAY IN THE LIFE OF FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1990

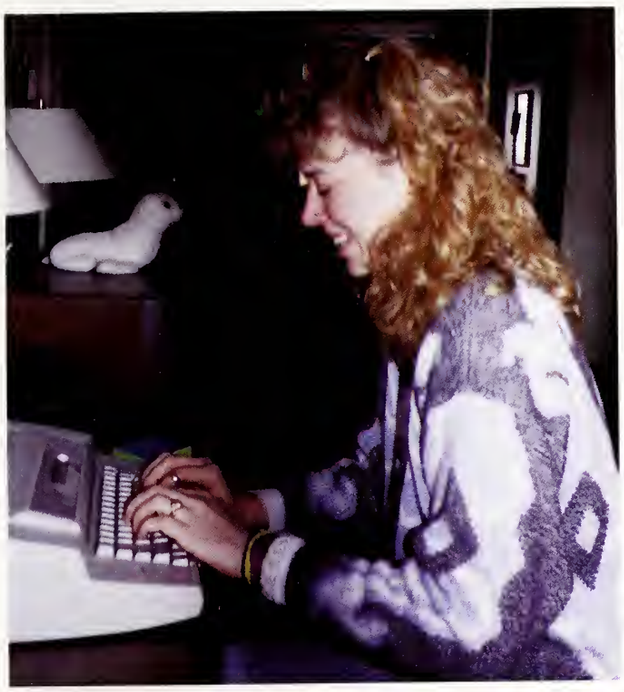
We start the day off walking through the campus. The parking lot fills up more and more each minute.

A typical day on Millikin's campus.

The new Deli-Op is ready and waiting for customers.

Hi, Ho, Hi, Ho it's off to class we go.

MILLIKIN UNIVERSITY



You can always find someone typing a paper or catching up on some note taking around campus.

Lunch in the cafe.
Lifting Weights
Or Jumping for fun.
It's MILLIKIN!!!

Ready for a party or Vogue? Pizza!!!

Notes From The President

Dear Students,

The pages of this book provide a permanent record of the 1989-90 academic year at Millikin. Long after your graduation, you will find the Millidek helpful as you recall the many friends you made here and review the highlights of the year. You should remember this as an important year in the life of Millikin as we marked the beginning of a new decade.

There was excitement throughout the year. We had a record fall enrollment and applauded the talented performances by students academically, on stage, and on the playing fields.

Many seeds of new beginnings were sown at Millikin during the year, including the development of a strategic plan to guide Millikin through the next decade and into the next century. To those of you who participated in this planning process, I offer my personal thanks.

For the seniors, 1989-90 truly was a year marking "A New Decade, A New Beginning." Many new opportunities await this talented class, and to them I extend special wishes for a rich and productive life., I hope you have frequent opportunities to return and renew campus friendships.

J. Roger Miller

VOLLEYBALL

Kim Halusan of Belleville scoffed at the sophomore jinx. The Big Blue volleyball outside hitter continued to progress this season and was rewarded with a selection to the All-College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin second team.

Halusan led Millikin in kills, hitting percentage and blocks. She ranked among the NCAA Division III national leaders in blocks.

Halusan was a second team all-conference pick last season.

Senior setter Shelli LaReau of Watseka, the team captain and most valuable player, received honorable mention in voting for the all-conference teams.

Millikin finished 15-19 overall, 3-5 in the conference. Three of its conference losses were in five games, a sign of progress according to Slagell.

SOCCER

Bryan Kriekard of Darien is among the players who will have new roles with the Millikin University soccer team next season.

The freshman is among a group that will have to assume leadership roles following the graduation of five seniors.

Millikin finished like gang busters with a record of 9-3-2 in its last 14 games. The Big Blue beat North Park, 5-0, in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin playoffs before losing to the eventual conference champion, Wheaton, in the semi-finals.

Millikin improved from fifth to third place in the CCIW standing this season.

Among those expected to return is Mickey Thomas of Decatur (MacArthur), the team's leading scorer, who set single-season records with 12 goals and 26 points. Junior Joe Tolan of Collinsville and sophomore Todd Shaub of Taylorville are expected to be key contributors on offense.

The Big Blue is losing five seniors — Jimmi Brookhart of Springfield (Pleasant Plains), Chris Klawitter of Steger (Marian Catholic), Peter Obermann of Hoffman Estates, David Peistrup of St. Louis, MO (Parkway West) and Chris Walsh of Peekskill, N.Y. (Hoffman Estates).

The Lake Central High School graduate gave an inkling of things to come in the season finale at the NCAA Division III Regional meet. Grabske ran the 8,000-meter course in 27:39, finishing four seconds ahead of Millikin senior Pat German, the reigning team most valuable performer, and 17 seconds behind senior Bob Bergland, a former team MVP.

Luy also is looking for good things from a pair of sophomore, Tom Mueth of Mascoutah and Darren Voth of Plainville, who were consistently among the team's top five runners.

Millikin finished fifth at the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin meet, up from its sixth place finish the previous year. All five of its runners finished at 28 minutes or under.

MEN'S TENNIS

Millikin University women's tennis coach Leonard McNeely is excited about the outlook for next year for his team which loses only one player to graduation.

The objective at the start of the season was to bring the freshmen along slowly to build their confidence and ease the transition from high school to college. The strategy paid off, particularly with freshmen Niccole Biggs of Hillsboro and Jennifer Bird of McHenry.

Biggs had an 11-4 record in singles competition and finished second in the No. 6 singles draw at the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin championships.

Biggs earned all-conference honor along with sophomore Shelly Kramer of Olney (East Richland). Kramer, who had not played since high school, finished with a 9-9 record and was second in No. 5 singles at the conference championships.

Bird won three of her last five matches.

The young Big Blue capped a season of steady improvement by finishing fifth in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin championships. Millikin improved on its seventh-place finish from the previous season.

Sophomore Amy Burrows of Olney (East Richland) had an 8-13 record as No. 1 singles player for the second successive season.

McNeely is counting on juniors Kirsten Lamborn of Southbury, Conn. and Heather Lisk of Glen Ellyn (Glenbard West) to continue the leadership provided by this year's senior Jeanne Kottke of Decatur (Watseka).

Rounding out the squad is freshman Jennifer McQuillen of Glen Ellyn (Glenbard South)

The golf team finished 14th in the national tournament and received its seventh consecutive invitation to the tournament after winning the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin championship for an eighth consecutive year.

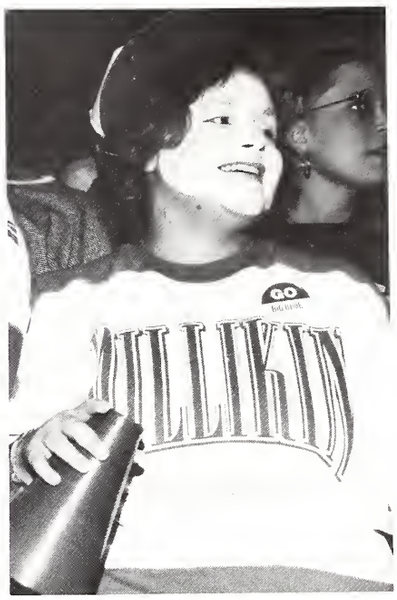
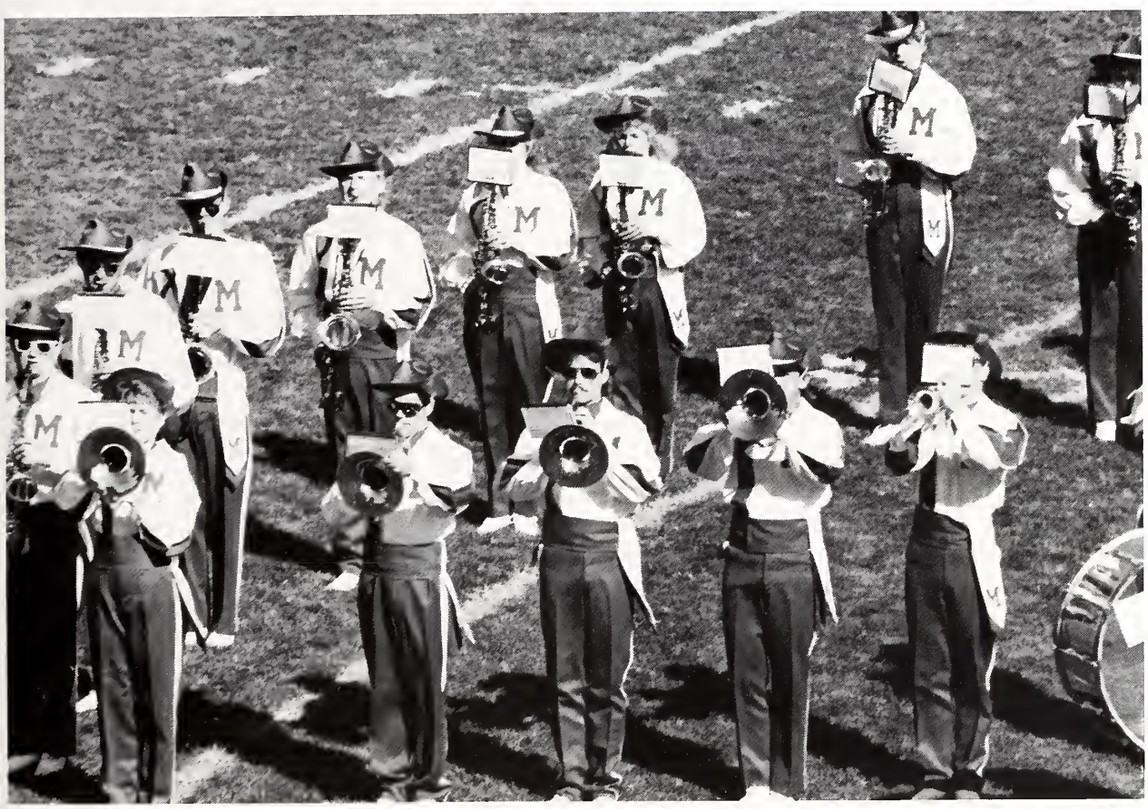
ACTIVITIES



FALL FAMILY WEEKEND

The weekend activities were coordinated by the office of Alumni and Parent Relations under the leadership of student chairperson Carol Knoche of Mt. Vernon. Fall Family Weekend is Millikin's answer to Parents Day and includes a variety of activities for all members of families of Millikin students.



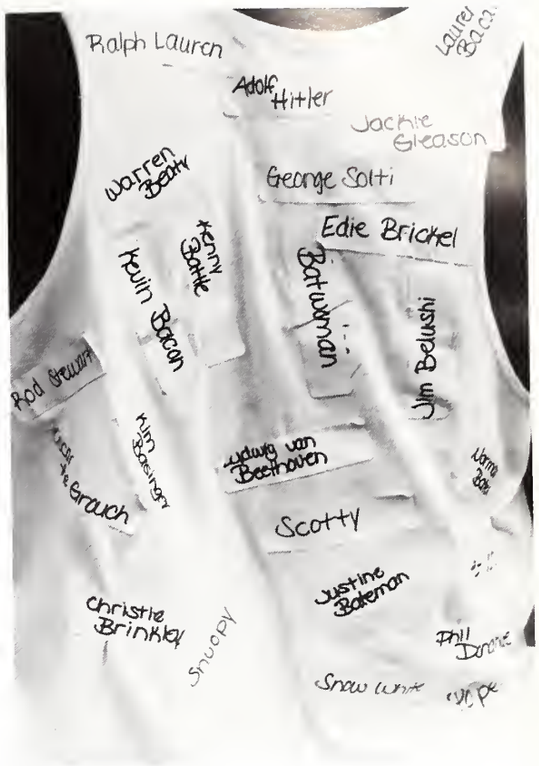
Millikin extended a warm welcome to families by arranging such activities as the Fall Family Weekend Banquet with music by the Millikin Vocal Jazz Ensemble and a Millikin Theatre production of 42nd Street in the Kirkland Fine Arts Center.

MILLICAMP

Millicamp is a part of the University orientation program, all new students were encouraged to attend this overnight session at Allerton Park, prior to the beginning of classes.

Millikin University chose the Allerton Park setting because it provides a relaxing atmosphere where new students, selected upperclassmen, faculty and administrators can get acquainted and informally discuss life at Millikin.

The agenda also includes meeting the University president, talking with faculty from various academic departments, as well as participation in student life discussions, competitive games and entertainment.



MILLICAMP 1989 was a success. It got the freshman off on the right foot. They learned a lot while having fun.

GAMES, GAMES, GAMES! Who am I? Tug of War, and more.

Do you remember when Reagan came from Hollywood to become the leader of our nation? Or when AIDS became the most feared epidemic to the United States? Have you recalled endless events of the 80s, the 90s have just begun to form the list of endless events, that will etch a picture in our minds for life.

The 80s brought: MTV, drug wars, Mt. St. Helen's erupting, physical fitness, compact discs, Chernobyl, and the largest oil spill in history . . . Exxon.

Now a new decade has begun and the 80s are to be remembered for it is now a part of our history.

The 90s opened with incredible events such as the earthquake in California, and chain events leading to forming new democratic governments in Romania and China.

The 80s led to the imprisonment of Manuel Noriega, the 90s led to the release of an almost life time imprisonment of Nelson Mandela. In the closing of this past decade the upheaval of China's government occurred causing a tremendous blood shed in Tiananmen square. The new decade then began with the tearing down of the Berlin wall after separating east and west Germany for fifty years.

The 80s will leave a lasting impression on our minds. Now it is the 90s, a time in which everyone shall make their own history. A time for generations to follow and to learn about . . . .

The seniors at Millikin University left the inevitable high school and conquered college with their academic skills in the 80s. The class of 1990 will now enter the world as the first graduating class from Millikin in this new era. They will tread a new path in life in which they will teach others and also be taught. The Millidek dedicates "Into the 90s" to the class of 1990, and wishes them the best of luck in their future endeavors . . . for they will succeed.

Crime rate causes concern for students and parents

by Jenny Spinner

Millikin used to be located in one of the safest, most attractive parts of Decatur.

The key words are "used to."

Now the University suffers from a chronic case of "normal social change," according to Decatur Police Chief John Race.

People move to the outer edges of the city and leave behind empty houses, he explained. Then the innercity, along with its higher crime rate, takes over.

Because the University borders the innercity, many people, especially prospective students and their parents, are concerned about safety on campus.

"Invariably, we're asked about the area," Lin Stoner, director of admissions, said. "Ninety-nine percent of the families are concerned about safety on campus, and they should be."

In fact, the neighborhood is one of the least attractive aspects of Millikin, Stoner said.

"We get bad-mouthed because of the area south of the campus," he said. "Actually, Decatur, as a whole, is not a selling point, period."

But just because the neighborhood is unattractive does not mean it is unsafe, Race said.

"You can't confuse poor people with criminals," he said. "Many of those neighborhood people are really honest."

In fact, Race said the University is located in a moderate rather than a high crime district.

"But because Millikin is right on the edge of the innercity, you get some spill-over of crimes," he said.

Another factor contributing to crime in the area are gangs that border the campus, Race said. Individual gang members, however, are responsible for the crimes rather than the gangs as a whole.

Millikin also is a typical university, Race said, and universities invariably attract criminals.

The criminals usually come from outside rather than inside the university, he said.

"Millikin students are more commonly victims than suspects," he explained.

On campus, however, Joseph Houston, vice president for student development, said the University has more trouble with students.

"Sometimes it's community people, but not the majority of the time," Houston said. "Most of what we deal with is students against students...fights, sexual assaults."

But Race said Decatur police have little trouble with Millikin students.

"Other than an occasional loud party call, we wouldn't know the University was there," he said.

Millikin students also are safer than most students in larger universities, Race said.

The police district in which Millikin is located is relatively small, he said, so officers have less area to cover. That means the campus can be patrolled more often. Plus, Decatur has a lower per capita crime rate than both Champaign and Springfield, he said.

(See "Crime," p. 3)

University alters payment procedures for 1990-91

by Julie Beamer

Millikin University is changing some of its tuition and fee payment procedures and policies according to Stuart Koop, Millikin's business manager/controller.

The first change, according to Koop, is that the University will no longer allow students to sign notes at registration. The only exceptions, he said, will be for students who have loans in process or pending financial aid packages.

"Twenty-five percent of the students were signing notes," Koop said, "and it was becoming more and more difficult to collect on those notes. Our mission is education, not loans. We literally had a number of students last semester walk up and say, 'Give me a note' with no thought about paying it off."

Koop said the second change is that students must submit payment for each semester one week before the start of that semester's classes. He added that a fifty dollar late fee will be charged to accounts not paid on time. He also said if a student's account is not paid by the end of the first week of classes, the University will cancel the student's registration.

Koop said the new policies will reduce hassles for both the University and the students at registration and validation by reducing the lines.

According to Koop, all incoming freshmen and returning students are being sent a letter to notify them of the changes. The changes go into effect starting with the fall semester of the 1990-91 school year.

Crime bill stalled in committees

by Jenny Spinner

As the problem of crime on college campuses continues to grow, some federal legislators think they have a solution.

That solution is the Campus Safety and Security Act of 1989, which would require universities with federally-funded student aid programs to publish annual crime reports.

In the reports, universities would include incidents of arson, assault, burglary, disorderly conduct, driving under the influence of drugs and alcohol, drug and alcohol abuse, homicide, rape, robbery, theft, vandalism and weapons possession.

These reports then would be available to students, employees and potential students upon request.

The bill also would require universities to establish individual policies for alcohol, drugs and weapons possession.

The bill was created based on findings that violent crimes have increased dramatically on college campuses, according to Melissa Batty, press secretary for U.S. Rep. Dick Durbin, D-Decatur.

Plus, out of 8,000 post-secondary institutions surveyed, only 352 voluntarily published crimes statistics, Batty read from the bill.

The bill was introduced in both U.S. House and Senate committees last year, Batty said.

The Senate bill has been in the Education, Arts and Humanities Subcomittee since Nov. 20, she said.

"Since the bill has been in the subcommittee since November, it's unclear whether it's going to be able to get out of the committee at all," Batty said.

The bill must be approved by the subcommittee and the Labor and Human Resources Committee before it can be placed on the Senate docket and then debated, she explained.

"I don't think we have anything to hide..."
Joseph Houston

The House bill, however, is having better luck, Batty said.

The Post-Secondary Education Subcommittee held hearings on the House bill in March, Batty said.

"That means there's interest in the bill," she explained. "And it's one step ahead of the Senate bill."
